

Positions vacant for 2019: Education Assistants and Social Worker

Our School

Bunbury Regional Community College (BRCC) is both a new school and a new kind of school.

BRCC opened its doors in Bunbury in 2018 for students in years 10 and 11 and is expanding to year 12 in 2019. The school is deliberately small with a maximum of 60 students in 2019 and growing to around 90 students over the next few years. It is funded as a CARE (Curriculum and Re-engagement in Education) School and its focus is students who have not been successful learners.

The school is using the Big Picture Education design. It is based on the belief that the unique interests, needs and abilities of each student must be at the centre of their educational program.

Whilst at BRCC students will:

- be encouraged and helped to develop the literacy and numeracy skills that are needed for future success;
- have opportunities to explore and develop their interests both with their teacher in the classroom and with mentors in the community;
- achieve their OLNA, complete interest projects, study a range of certificates and short courses; and
- develop the academic and personal skills that will help them to create positive, productive futures.

Who do we want?

After receiving very strong interest from teaching professionals we are now looking for staff to support students and their learning both in and out of the classroom.

In particular we are seeking to appoint

- Education Assistants (up to three full time positions); and
- A Social Worker (three days a week).

We want people who are willing to share their interests, passions and story with the students.

We require people who help each and every to student matter, who can see and value their culture, talents and interests, who can help them fit by modifying the school and classroom to meet their needs and who can help them work with family and community support.

Overall, we need people who never give up on any student.
